

SINFONIA Data Repository Users Privacy Policy

Scope of this notice

This document applies to all personal data linked to a user which is collected while registering an user account in the SINFONIA Data Repository hosted at <https://sinfonia.cesga.es>.

The de-identification of any patient or study data uploaded by the users must be performed on their local computing premises before sending the data to the central server, so it falls out of the scope of this notice.

For the purpose of this document, the term “Data protection legislation” means the European Regulation 2016/679 of the European Parliament and the European Council (General Data Protection Regulation – “GDPR”). The following terms shall have in the context of this document the meaning defined in the data protection legislation: “controller”, “processor”, “third party”, “personal data”, “data subject”.

Processors of your personal data

In the context of the SINFONIA Data Repository, your data is collected and processed by the following organizations for the purposes of keeping a functioning data repository for the SINFONIA project:

Organisation	Categories of processed data	Purpose of processing	Data sources	Legal basis
CESGA (ES)	Full name Email address IP address, access date and time, generated password	Authentication Store the Data Base of the repository Store server logs to be able to examine potential technical problems or claims.	Registration form User uploads System logs	Explicit consent by the user (when requesting an account)

Legal basis for processing your personal data

Your personal data is processed based on your explicit consent expressed by requesting an account to CESGA for accessing the SINFONIA Data Repository.

Duration of storage of your personal data

The data will be stored while necessary for the project development and further evaluation and any legal requirements related to the accountability of the data controller for decisions based on this data from the side of the funding organizations.

Sharing of personal data with third parties

As a data sharing platform, your user account name and full name will be visible to the rest of the SINFONIA Data Repository users with collaboration and research purposes.

Location of storage of your personal data

All personal data will be stored on CESGA servers within the EEA (European Economic Area).

User rights

Several rights are recognized by the data protection legislation which users can exercise free of charge, subject to statutory exceptions, when the data controller is required by legislation to keep certain data or has a legitimate interest to store the data, which includes, but is not limited to, the need to document the SINFONIA Data Repository evaluation process for project auditors.
